

New Horizons in Consecrated Life

The Claret Publishing Group hope that these reflections also serve as a stimulus to continue the task of “practical theology” of a consecrated life called to be innovative from its extraordinary tradition.

“We, Claretian Missionaries, actively involve ourselves in the local churches and collaborate with other institutes of consecrated life (inter-congregational collaboration) and movements in accord with our charismatic identity.” (Cf We are Missionaries, Chapter Document Sept 2015)
