Commentary to the 4th Sunday of Easter – Year C

It's Nice to be Carried, but by Whom

Introduction

| Second Reading: Revelation 7:9,14b-17 |
|---------------------------------------|
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
| Gospel: John 10:27-30                 |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |

Fr. Fernando Armellini