

Commentary on the Gospel for Tue, Jan 4th 2011

Tuesday, 4th January.

MK 6: 34-44

Whenever Jesus saw the painful reality of people's lives, he was moved to free them from their pains. Personal experience of his love is the threshold of a life of solidarity. St. Paul was urged by the love of Jesus (2cor 5, 14). Father Claret tells that he was forced by this love to go from town to town for the sake of the gospel. The experience of God's love will make us realize our unworthiness and lead us to a life of gratitude.
