

Commentary on the Gospel for Thu, Feb 17th 2011

Is not easy to confess to Jesus when we are facing trying circumstances or difficulties. It is tempting to follow Christ without his cross. But the cross is by no means the final goal. What is the point of enduring the hardship of being a follower if you are propelled into the experience of resurrection? Repeat to him: "I believe in you, Jesus, crucified and Risen..."

The Forge