

Commentary on the Gospel for Thu, Feb 24th 2011

What is the value of boasting about freedom or wisdom, if you use them to make others stumble or separate them from Jesus? What value is there in having hands or feet, or enjoying perfect eyesight... if they are prejudicial to others or they positively do harm to you? How will you get to live in the place where the fire is never quenched?

The Forge