

Commentary on the Gospel for Sun, Feb 27th 2011

The gospel for this Sunday is a beautiful invitation to trust in and surrender ourselves to God: why worry about anything if God holds you in his hands? Why oppress yourself if he is your guarding and your providence? Why not place him in the centre of your heart if you know that all others will let you down...?

The Forge