

Commentary on the Gospel for Sat, Jun 9th 2018

The Immaculate Heart of Mary—the heart that felt troubled at the visit of the angel the heart that surrendered to the Will of God the heart that danced at the redemptive plan of God the heart that wondered and shuddered at the prophesy of Simeon the heart that ached at the loss of her twelve-year-old the heart that cherished all events around her the heart that pondered on the mysteries of God and her son the heart that was pierced by sorrow at the death of her son the heart that prayed with the apostles the heart consecrated to God and God alone the heart that loves us as her own the heart that the sin never dared to touch, the heart that is immaculate through and through.

Immaculate Heart of Mary, re-form my heart in you!
