The message of peace

God has offered an opportunity to each of us. However, to each person God has come in a different way. How can we recognize our opportunity? We should remember that God has come with the message of peace. It is necessary to look around and think what peace brings to us.

Sometimes peace gives us forgiveness, sometimes it opens us for service, sometimes it brings us gratitude and joy. But peace always gives us love. When love is growing up in our hearts, we can be sure that it is our opportunity being offered to us by God.
