

Commentary on the Gospel for Sat, Nov 24th 2018

Take the word of God to themselves

The resurrection is the theme of today's liturgy. The Church wants to encourage us to think of eternal life: do you really believe in the resurrection? But the Gospel today challenges us to answer a few other questions: are you able to change your mind? Do you realize that sometimes you could be wrong? Or maybe you are like the Sadducees, who are convinced that they never make mistakes. Let Jesus change your minds and hearts by his word.
