

Commentary on the Gospel for Fri, Aug 5th 2011

Jesus never said that following him would be easy. On the contrary, he challenged us to take up our cross each day if we wanted to follow him closely. Our sole purpose in life is to gain eternal life. Jesus has given us the road map and the means to gain that life. But are we prepared for the journey, the lows as well as the highs along the way? Let us take a longer look at the map to see if we are still on the right path or do we need to take another bearing to get ourselves in touch with Christ.
