

Commentary on the Gospel for Mon, Sep 26th 2011

For Jesus, the attitude we have with children becomes the thermometer which measures our stature as a person- to welcome a child is to welcome Jesus. there are more things hidden from us than we first imagine.

BD