

Commentary on the Gospel for Thu, Dec 15th 2011

John the Baptist was a convincing prophet. People believed him because of his credible witness. His lifestyle was a prophecy in itself, his words carry so much fire. And when he points to Jesus as greater than he, he is not just endorsing someone greater than him, he was acknowledging the truth about Jesus as the promised one. The world needs more credible witnesses to lead others to Jesus like John.
