

Commentary on the Gospel for Fri, Jan 27th 2012

Many years ago, experimental psychologists discovered that the autonomic systems in the body are not so independent in their operation after all; they can be taught to do things! To have full control of everything that happens in you would be like having an airline pilot wave you to his seat at the controls, 39,000 feet up, and say, “It is all yours!: Thank God there are many things not subject to human will! The deeper one goes, the less subject. At the deepest level of all, the “Kingdom of God” (the Presence of God is a mystery that unfolds gradually, justly, innocently...
