

Commentary on the Gospel for Thu, Mar 1st 2012

A Christian doesn't just want knowledge of Christ but to really know him as a person, to feel him as a brother or sister. O share in the new life of the Risen Christ we have to share in his suffering. We are salt and light; we need to preserve the Word of God and be a witness to that Word by the example we give. Secularism is rampant today so we have to challenge it by our daily living of the Gospel.
