

Commentary on the Gospel for Thu, Mar 8th 2012

The rich man and Lazarus story teaches us how to be people of justice. Rich and poor belong to God's family, so we should treat each other as God treats us. If as Jeremiah tells us we must trust in the Lord, we must have a Christ-like attitude to the suffering, the down and outs, the homeless etc. Jesus lived among them and fed them, materially and spiritually. Let us follow his example. What do I do to help my brothers and sisters most in need?
