

Commentary on the Gospel for Tue, Mar 13th 2012

In the Our Father we ask God to forgive us as we forgive others. We often forget this and behave like the wicked servant, instead of showing mercy and compassion. God will not demand an account of what we owe him but will ask how we have shown forgiveness to others, his brothers and sisters. Do we often celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation and constantly review our relationship with God and each other?
