

Commentary on the Gospel for Sun, May 13th 2012

Lectio Divina

Read

- John 15:9-17: Jesus continues his discourse on being a true disciple. He does not regard them as servants but friends.

Reflect

- Do you value the fact that you are chosen? Because of the special esteem Jesus has for us, we should not dwell on whether we are worthy or not, rather how we can be fruitful in our ministry and relationship because of his affection and affirmation.

Pray

- Prayer is basking in the love of God. Spend some time just soaking in the love God has for us.

Act

- What can you do today to show God's love to others especially those who need it the most.
