

Commentary on the Gospel for Fri, Oct 12th 2012

Jesus goes around healing and casting out demons and majority of the people are happy except for few who accuse him of blasphemy and using Beelzebub to cast out devils. If Jesus is accused we can imagine what about his followers, as Jesus himself said, 'if they do it to fresh wood like this what about the dried ones'. We, his followers will surely be accused and persecuted for following him. Let us stand firm and not lose heart as the Galatians did. Let us be strong in our faith and not lose our faith in the midst of trials and tribulations.

Fr. George Vayaliparampil, cmf