First Reading: 1 Cor 3:1-9

Brothers and sisters,

I could not talk to you as spiritual people,
but as fleshly people, as infants in Christ.

I fed you milk, not solid food,
because you were unable to take it.

Indeed, you are still not able, even now,
for you are still of the flesh.

While there is jealousy and rivalry among you,
are you not of the flesh, and walking according to the manner of man?

Whenever someone says, "I belong to Paul," and another,
"I belong to Apollos," are you not merely men?

What is Apollos, after all, and what is Paul?

Ministers through whom you became believers,
just as the Lord assigned each one.

I planted, Apollos watered, but God caused the growth.

Therefore, neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is anything, but only God, who causes the growth.

He who plants and he who waters are one,
and each will receive wages in proportion to his labor.

For we are God's co-workers;
you are God's field, God's building.

Responsorial Psalm: Ps 33:12-13, 14-15, 20-21

R/ Blessed the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

Blessed the nation whose God is the Lord,
the people he has chosen for his own inheritance.
From heaven the Lord looks down;
he sees all mankind.

R/ Blessed the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

From his fixed throne he beholds
all who dwell on the earth,
He who fashioned the heart of each,
he who knows all their works.

R/ Blessed the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

Our soul waits for the Lord,
who is our help and our shield,
For in him our hearts rejoice;
in his holy name we trust.

R/ Blessed the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

Gospel Reading: Lk 4:38-44

Leaving the synagogue, Jesus went to the house of Simon. His mother-in-law was suffering from high fever and they asked him to do something for her. Bending over her, he rebuked the fever, and it left her. Immediately she got up and waited on them.

At sunset, people suffering from many kinds of sickness were brought to Jesus. Laying his hands on each one, he healed them. Demons were driven out, howling as they departed from their victims. "You are the Son of God!" He rebuked them and would not allow them to speak, for they knew he was the Messiah.

Jesus left at daybreak and looked for a solitary place. People went out in search of him and, finding him, they tried to dissuade him from leaving.

But he said, "I have to go to other towns to announce the good news of the kingdom of God. That is what I was sent to do." So Jesus continued to preach in the synagogues of the Jewish country.
