First Reading: Ne 8:1-4a,5-6,7b-12

The whole people gathered as one in the open space before the Water Gate, and they called upon Ezra the scribe to bring forth the book of the law of Moses which the Lord prescribed for hisred:

On the first day of the seventh month, theretoe, Ezra the prices through the law before the assembly, which consisted the consistency of the law before the assembly, which consistency the law before the assembly, which consistency the law before the Water Gate, but the law before the Water Gate, and the people distinct and the women, and those children old enough to understand; and all the people listence attentively to the book of the law. Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that had been made for the occasion.

He opened the scroll so that the people may be the law. Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that had been made for the occasion.

He opened the scroll so that law before the law, as the opened it, all the people rose.

Ezra besed the Lord, the great God, and, as he opened it, all the people rose.

Ezra besed the Lord, the great God, and all the people, their hands raised high, answered, "Amen, amen!"

Then they bowed down and prostrated themselves before the Lord, their faces to the ground.

As the people remained in their places.

Ezra read plainly from the book of the law of God, interpreting is to that all could understand what was read.

Then Nehmiah, that is, His Excellency, and Ezra the priest-scribe and the Levites who were instructing the people said to all the people:

"Today is holy to the Lord your God.

Do not be sad, and do not weep"— for all the people were weeping as they heard the words of the law. He said further: "Go, ear rich foods and drink weet drinks, and allot portions to those who had nothing prepared; for today is holy to our Lord.

Do not be sad, on the consistence and the Levites upon the role of the law. He said further: "Go, ear rich fo

Responsorial Psalm: Ps 19:8, 9, 10, 11

R./ The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

The law of the Lord is perfect, refreshing the soul; The decree of the Lord is trustworthy, giving wisdom to the simple.

R./ The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

The precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; The command of the Lord is clear, enlightening the eye;

R./ The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

The fear of the Lord is pure, enduring forever; The ordinances of the Lord are true, all of them just.

R./ The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

They are more precious than gold, than a heap of purest gold; Sweeter also than syrup or honey from the comb.

R./ The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

Gospel Reading: Lk 10:1-12

"The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way; behold, I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sundals; and greet no one along the way, Into whatever house you enter, first say, Peace to this household." If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you. Stay in the same house and eat and drink what is offered to you, for the laborer deserves his payment. Do not move about from one house to another. Whatever town you enter and they welcome you, eat what is set before you, cut the sisk in it and say to them. "The Kingdom of God is at hand for you." Whatever town you enter and they do not receive you, go out into the streets and say, go out fine the streets and say, go out fine the streets and say.

Vet know this: the Kingdom of God is at hand. I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom on that day than for that town."
