

Liturgy Alive of Tuesday 18th Week in Ordinary Time Year 1

Opening Prayer

Lord our God,
there is a constant tension in us between fear and faith
as we are battling with the winds and the waves that threaten our faithfulness to the Gospel.
Make us accept Lord, that faith is never secure or acquired once and for all.
Make it grow in us day after day,
that we may not be faint-hearted
but resolutely follow your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Introduction: Not so with my servant Moses! Why, then, did you not fear to speak against him?

In the first reading, Aaron and Miriam are reprimanded for the lack of faith in the personal and prophetic charisma of Moses and in his leadership.

Gospel Reading Introduction: Command me to come to you on the water.

The symbolism of the Gospel narrative is very strong. Water is evil, which swallows up. Jesus, the Lord, is mightier. He invites the disciple and the whole Church to take the risk of faith of following him. Faith is insecure by itself; we have to pass through the storms of life between faith and fear. But the Lord is there, unseen: It is I, I am with you. Do not be afraid.

General Intercessions

- For the Church, when it has to pass through difficult moments of persecution, ridicule or inner conflict, that it may keep trusting in the Lord, we pray:
- For Christians beset by doubts or facing hard decisions of conscience, that they may see the hand that Jesus extends to them, we pray:
- For people, who have to do dangerous work, that the Lord may protect them we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

You wish to reassure us,
Lord our God,
how much you are with us
through him who is our food and drink, your Son, Jesus Christ.

Through him, give us the power to walk the stormy road of faith and to take the risks of love, that we may overcome our fears and make his reassuring word the foundation of our life and work now and till the end of time.

Prayer after Communion

Our all-powerful God, you invite us through Jesus, your Son,
to leave our timid security and to come across the water with him in commitment to you and to our neighbor.
Even though, we do not see his hand put out to us and holding us, give us enough faith to be certain that with him, we shall overcome and build up your future in our human world, until he leads us across to you,
our God, for ever and ever.

Blessing

“Take courage, it is I; do not be afraid,” says Jesus. He is with us in our struggles, for he will never desert us. May Almighty God bless you, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
