

Liturgy Alive of Monday, Twenty-third Week in Ordinary Time

Opening Prayer

Lord our God,
in your Son Jesus Christ
you have revealed to us
your treasures of wisdom and love.
His life and his gospel are so full and rich that we can never exhaust their wisdom.
Let it be a life and a wisdom
in which we grow day after day.
Make us complete in Christ,
that we may hasten
the coming of his kingdom in ourselves and among people far and near.

We ask you this through Christ our Lord.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Introduction

In the first reading of today we hear Paul speak with conviction and enthusiasm about his mission of preaching the gospel. It is a glorious task. We can feel how the gospel fills him and has become the sole meaning of his life. Let Christ also be the meaning of our lives. If so, we cannot but preach him by our words and our way of life.

Gospel Introduction

It is strange how, as we read in the Gospel, faithful, practicing religious people, like the scribes and Pharisees—the regular churchgoers of their day—were a big obstacle to the work of Jesus. They are upset and angry because Jesus cures a man with a withered hand on the day of the Lord. Jesus came to do good and to preserve life, as he said, to carry out a mission of love and life, and these cannot be adequately expressed in laws and commands. We may and should do good also on Sundays!

General Intercessions

- Lord Jesus, open our minds and hearts to understand your gospel in all its riches, that we may live it and communicate it to others, we pray:

- Lord Jesus, may our sick and suffering people understand that they follow and complete the suffering of Christ and may this realization strengthen them, we pray:

- Lord Jesus, may our communities understand and love you and be united in you, we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

Lord our God,
accept these gifts as a sign of our faith in your Son Jesus Christ.
Let us become smaller and Christ grow greater in us, that you may recognize and love in us your Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Prayer after Communion

Lord our God,
you have spoken to us

your living Word Jesus Christ and given us his body to eat.
Give to this word an ever-new resonance,
that we may never get tired of it or think we have exhausted it.
And what we have heard and understood,
help us to speak it in our own words and in the language of our lives.

We ask this in the name of Jesus the Lord.

Blessing

In Christ are found all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. It is him we have to proclaim with our lives and to become mature in him. May God bless you all, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
