Liturgy Alive of Friday, Octave of Easter

Introduction
All evangelists t	mderline the disciples' difficulty of recognizing the risen Lord. First they do not realize he is there, he is just like a stranger; then, usually as a consequence of a word or action, it dawns on them that it is the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different to the disciples' difficulty of recognizing the risen Lord. First they do not realize he is there, he is just like a stranger; then, usually as a consequence of a word or action, it dawns on them that it is the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different heart in the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different heart in the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different heart in the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different heart in the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different heart in the Lord; and those who love him most - today John - usually recognize him first. The risen Lord is quite different heart in the Lord; and the appearance from the Jesus whom they had known before his death and resurrection.
	Though their faith in the resurrection was difficult and slow, still it is the heart of the apostolic preaching: the risen Jesus is the cornerstone of our faith and our lives. As with the apostles, he stays with us as when we are toiling.
Opening Praye
	through our risen Lord, your Son Jesus Christ, you have given us a message of hope to the control of the contro and a person to live for.  Free our fait from triviality and routine and fill us with his Spirit of courage, that we may learn to live and we may scall to the with the insecurities of the change of renewal wer-demanded by the gospel and by the needs of the times.
	May our Christian living bear witness o the name of him by whom we are saved, Sesus Christ, our risen Lord.
General Intercessions
- For the Church	, that it may continue proclaiming the good news of the risen Lord and bearing witness to him even if this annoys outsiders or even some of its own members, we pray:
	For our Christian communities, that without fear we may live our faith openly and do what is right and good in the name of Jesus, we pray:
	For all and each of us that we may recognize with faith and love the presence of the Lord in one another, we pray:

C 1 F 1
	you put good words on our tongue and you fill our hands with good gifts; you entrust even your 50n to us and place him in our hands.  Through him, then, and together with him.  te ta shecome to the world your word and your gift, your sign of hope, and make us capable of bearing witness o your love for people.
	We ask you this in the name of Jesus the Lord.
Prayer after Co	mmunion

Lord God, our Father, your Son Jesus invited us today to come and eat the food of himself which he had prepared for us.

May we too invite people far and near to share the table of the things we have and of the best that is in us - our love and compassion, our encouraging word, and our presence to one another. May this be the sign to those around us that your risen Son lives among us now and for ever.

Blessing

May we raise up one another and bring one another healing and peace in the name of our risen Lord, Jesus. May almighty God bless you, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
