

Liturgy Alive of Feria

Opening Prayer

Lord our God,
we thank you today for Jesus, your Son.
He came to heal our wounds and to set us going on the way to you and to one another.
Help us in our fumbling, stumbling attempts to continue looking for him and to make his gospel of hope and love come true among us as the good news that your Son is alive among us and that he is our Lord for ever.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Introduction

We are God's community, and therefore, all division among us is a shame. It shows that we have not yet grown up in the Spirit as "spiritual" people. If we could only grow up!

Gospel Introduction

Jesus has preached his message of hope in the lake town of Capernaum and confirmed it by liberating the poor and the sick from the powers of evil. He has to bring the same good news to other places. The gospel of hope in a new world is destined for all. With the people healed by Jesus, let us in this eucharist thank the Lord for his good news.

General Intercessions

- That the Church may continue with compassion the task of healing of our Lord Jesus, that the sick may be comforted, the downtrodden set free, and the poor and the weak be protected, we pray:

- That the faith and the hope of the sick and the dying may be firmly anchored in our Lord Jesus who is the resurrection and the life, we pray:

- That we may learn more to heal one another by forgiving each other and by uplifting the sad and the discouraged, we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

Lord our God,
we need your Son Jesus Christ to be with us today, Give him to us in this bread and wine, that, weak and fallible as we are,
we may not give up the hope that your kingdom of justice and peace can take shape among us.
Let it become the humble sign of your goodness and justice and of your joy that lasts for ever.

Prayer after Communion

Lord our God,
in your power you care for the weak,
and so Jesus preferred the poor and the helpless.
Give us his Spirit of compassion and strength, that we too may commit ourselves to bring hope and justice to the dispossessed and the lonely.
And take away our pride, Lord, for we are perhaps weaker and poorer than those we presume to uplift.
Count us among those in need of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior for ever.

Blessing

Jesus cured the many who came to him with all sorts of diseases. Are we aware that we too can bring healing to others, by showing them affection, compassion, forgiveness? May the Lord make you attentive to the healing powers in you and may God bless you, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
