

Liturgy Alive of Feria

Opening Prayer

Lord our God,
your Son was born into this world from the Blessed Virgin Mary.
We praise you for your goodness but we also ask this of you: Let your Son be born in us in faith, in our lives: in our words, our thoughts, our attitudes and all we do.
And then, out of the fullness in us, may we share him with those around us as the Lord who belongs to all now and for ever.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Introduction

The disciplinarian of whom Paul speaks was the slave in charge of the education of the young. That was the role of the Jewish Law. But now that Christ has come, that educator is no longer needed. Faith has come and has made us children of God, whether we are Jews or pagans, free people or slaves, male or female. Without any distinction, we belong to Christ.

Gospel Introduction

In the gospel a woman admires Jesus, and with perhaps a hint of jealousy, she exclaims that indeed the mother of Jesus must be a fortunate woman to have such a son. Jesus' answer goes deeper, to a deeper motherhood, for those who bear Jesus, the Word of God in their hearts and their lives: those therefore who bring forth Jesus in faith.

General Intercessions

- That we may be grateful to the Lord Jesus that we know him and love him, we pray:

- That with Mary we may pray that God's word may be fulfilled in us, we pray:

- That there may be more people to hear the word of God proclaimed to them, we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

God our Father, your sons and daughters pray to you to give us here and now your Son Jesus Christ.
Let him warm our hearts,
make us similar to him,
fill us with his Holy Spirit, that he may become fully alive in us and we in him and that through us his light may shine and drive away the darkness of this world, for Jesus is our Lord for ever.

Prayer after Communion

Lord our God,
create us anew through your word and let Jesus, your living Word, grow in us day after day.
May we keep rising with him above our self-sufficiency and learn from him to bring him to life in others with an extended hand, a gesture of compassion, and a smile of hope to the lonely.

Let him live in us now and for ever.

Blessing

The word of God is not just a word but an action. That is even the meaning of "word" in the Old Testament: both word and action. May the word of God become action in us, deeds of goodness and love and service. And may almighty God bless you, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
