

Liturgy Alive of Feria

Opening Prayer

Lord our God, generous Father, simple people put us often to shame
by their total generosity
and straightforward loyalty.
Make us realize Lord,
that like your Son, the real poor of heart often make us understand who you are:
a God who gives himself.
Grant us too, this kind of generous love and loyalty

through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Introduction

Those who have not given in to the attraction and even persecution by paganism and the power of the world (Roman Empire) are the remnant of Christ, marked with the sign of Christ and of the Father. They have been loyal to him, as they have preferred the poverty of Christ above power, prestige and, personal safety. They did not belie their integrity as Christians. Our reading presents them to us as praising God in a heavenly liturgy.

Gospel Introduction

The widow goes beyond the law. In her generosity, she does not only give all she has, she has only what she has given. People who are poor often know well how to give because they know what it means to be poor and dependent; they know how to live in the hands of God.

General Intercessions

- Lord, we pray for widows and orphans. Keep them from despair and make us attentive to their need of love and compassion, we pray:
  - Lord, we pray for all the poor who are insecure about the next day. May we bring them security and love, we pray:
- Lord, we pray for this community. Make us learn from the poor to be generous enough to share not only from our abundance but also when needed, from our own poverty, we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

God, if you want someone to suffer or die for sin
that we may live,
you take your own Son and he agrees loyally.
God, who give yourself,
accept these gifts, poor as they are,
because in them we place our own generosity in the hope that you will make it grow

through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Prayer after Communion

Lord our God, generous Father,
in your Son, Jesus Christ, you come to us not the way a rich person would visit an underdeveloped humanity,
but the way a poor one shares with those who are also poor like him or her.
Accept our thanks for giving yourself and revealing in Jesus
all the abundance of your love with an infinite respect for our human poverty.

Accept our thanks through Christ, our Lord.

Blessing

Christ gave his own self to bring others reconciliation and happiness. Christians should learn from him to give themselves without counting the cost, with the blessing of Almighty God, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
