

Liturgy Alive of Feria

Opening Prayer

Lord, our God,
your mercy extends to everyone.
Let your missionary Church go out to all without any self-imposed, useless baggage that obscures the pure message of the Gospel but with great humility before the good will and the hospitality of people.
May, thus, our receptivity to people make them in turn receptive to the Good News of Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading Introduction

In his prayer of penance, Ezra focuses his attention more on the goodness of God and his constant forgiveness notwithstanding the infidelities of his people, rather than on people's sinfulness. Sin should make us turn to God in humility rather than make us withdraw within ourselves. We are what we are by what the Bible calls God's mercy, this is, not only compassion and forgiveness, but also tenderness, pity, clemency, goodness, fidelity. It also demands that people must have that attitude towards others that God shows towards them.

Gospel Introduction

After his parables on the sower of the word and of the lamp, Luke, using the incident of Mary and Jesus' relatives seeking him out in the crowd, sums up by saying that Jesus' new family is made up of those who hear the word of God and live accordingly. Accepting the gospel transcends family ties. This is no direct rebuke to Mary, as we know that she received and responded to the word of God and pondered it in her heart. Like her, do we put it into practice?

General Intercessions

– Lord, they were only fishers cleaning their nets, but you called the apostles to spread your Good News. Make us fearless to speak your Word, we pray:
– Lord, he was only a tax collector behind his desk, but you called Matthew to heal people and cast out devils. Wounded as we are, make us healers too, we pray:
– Lord, they are only plain, unpretentious people, but you call your faithful in our communities to tolerate no injustice, and to defend the poor. Speak through all of us what is right and good, we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

Creator of the whole world and lover of all, our God, we join your Son, Jesus Christ in his sacrifice whereby he redeemed the world.
Through the Spirit of your Son, enlighten and guide us to bring his Good News as a light to shine on all nations and as the healing power that reconciles all humanity with you, our God, for ever and ever.

Prayer after Communion

Lord our God,
your Son has again given us his command to bring his message of hope and salvation to all who are willing to listen.
We pray to you now for those whom you call especially for this task.
Let them be so much in the grip of the Gospel that they go out and place themselves without fear or hesitation in the hands of people, trusting in you and in the power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Blessing

The whole Church is mission. Missionaries must leave behind their luggage of their culture and big means, go in all simplicity with the Good News of Jesus, but must be ready also to be rejected like their Master. May Almighty God bless you all, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
