

Liturgy Alive of Friday of the Seventh Week in Ordinary Time

Joined Together By God

Introduction

James gives practical advice. We have to wait in patience for the coming of the Lord, and also be patient with one another. Then, we should be reliable people who stand by their given word. To Christ, marriage is planned by God to be indissoluble. Infidelity in marriage and divorce are against the will of God, whose faithfulness is the model of fidelity in marriage. In this eucharist we pray for fidelity for our Christian couples and for all of us in our commitments for fidelity to God and our neighbor.

Opening Prayer

You have created us, Lord our God, for friendship and for durable love, and you have shown us in Jesus your Son how to live for one another and for you.
May we learn from him to remain faithful to one another, each one according to one's calling in life.
Let our love for one another be the language in which you speak to us and the sign that you are near to us through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Intentions

- For the homes built on unselfish love, that through them we may understand better all the depth of God's love, we pray:
- For homes that are broken and for partners who have failed each other, that people may show them understanding and that God may give them mercy, we pray:
- For those who have renounced marriage for the sake of serving God in others, that they may never become loners but that their hearts may be spacious and warm, we pray:

Prayer over the Gifts

Our God and faithful Father, we have brought bread and wine before you and are gathered around the table of your Son to celebrate that we are, and want to be ever more, a covenant community with you and with one another.
Accept our thanks and praise and let us experience here that you are on the way with us whenever we are united with one another in serving and loving faithfulness, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Prayer after Communion

Our God and Father, you have entrusted love to us not as a finished product but as an assignment for life.
Let the love of your Son which we have experienced here in this eucharist invest our love with indestructible faithfulness, that it may weather all storms and keep growing in depth, until you crown it with your joy that lasts for ever and ever.

Blessing

We admire reliable, faithful love. We find a model for it in God's love, as exemplified in Jesus. May our love also be strong and faithful, especially in marriage. May God bless you, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
