pening Prayer
He and to y He to and and coil that	ee thank you today for Jesus, your Son.  ceame to heal our wounds  do set us going on the way  you and to one another.  elp us in our fumbling, stumbling attempts  continue looking for him  do to make his gospel of hope and love  met trea among us as the good news  at your Son is alive among us  dd that he is our Lord for ever.
iturgy of the Wo	ord
irst Reading Int We are God's c	roduction  community, and therefore, all division among us is a shame. It shows that we have not yet grown up in the Spirit as "spiritual" people. If we could only grow up!
Jesus has pread	ion ched his message of hope in the lake town of Capernaum and confirmed it by liberating the poor and the sick from the powers of evil. He has to bring the same good news to other places. The gospel of hope in a new world is destined for all. With the people healed by Jesus, let us in this eucharist thank the Lon is good news.
General Intercessi	sions
	may continue with compassion the task of healing of our Lord Jesus, that the sick may be comforted, the downtrodden set free, and the poor and the weak be protected, we pray:  That the faith and the hope of the sick and the dying may be firmly anchored in our Lord Jesus who is the resurrection and the life, we pray:
- T	That we may learn more to heal one another by forgiving each other and by uplifting the sad and the discouraged, we pray:
